

BIANCA D'AUTUNNO

Light straw-yellow color, slightly hazy appearance. White, thick and persistent head. Scents of hops with herbaceous notes, fresh citrusy aromas and intriguing hints of exotic fruit fill the nose.

The almost sweet taste of malted wheat is followed by herbaceous aromas, as well as gentle notes of citrus and yellow flesh fruit, with a final touch of mango.

The finish is dominated by the herbaceous character of the hops, with a pleasant yet bold bitterness which ends the sip with a refreshing feel.

A unique interpretation of a beer with a high alcohol content, balanced by a distinctive dryness which makes it dangerously easy to drink.
